A combination of favorable macroeconomic conditions and surging institutional interest in the digital asset has served Bitcoin well throughout the year, and several analysts recently told Decrypt they expect the appetite for BTC to continue to grow, despite signs of potential exhaustion in the crypto market earlier this week.

The continued aggressive accumulation of Ether occurs despite Lee's opinion that the digital asset treasury bubble may have burst.

The ETH monthly futures premium compared to spot markets slipped to 4%, below the 5% neutral threshold. Traders' sentiment had already been shaken by the flash crash on Oct. 10, and the last notable bullish phase was in early February. Ether traders appear increasingly doubtful about the strength of any lasting bullish momentum.

High-end brands and luxury car dealerships are also entering the crypto payment space. For example, Post Oak Motor Cars in the US accepts Bitcoin for buying super-luxury cars via BitPay. In Europe, platforms like BitCars have built a crypto-only marketplace for premium and classic vehicles.

Why these three? Each has strong brand recognition, decent liquidity and different strengths: BTC as the store-of-value, ETH with its smart contract ecosystem and XRP with fast settlement and cross-border payments. Together, they cover what businesses need: trust, functionality and speed.
