They would not provide certain benefits, though, including payments of interest on account balances or overdraft privileges. They might also impose caps on balances, in a bid to control for “various risks to the Federal Reserve and the payment system.”

The company expects to raise about $230.8 million, payable in Bitcoin or SolvBTC, with the transaction scheduled to close on Friday, pending customary conditions.

But the offering, called Ondo Global Finance, is only available for non-U.S. investors, according to an announcement from the company.
