Catching a coin's name trending on X or in a Telegram chat isn't enough to justify putting capital at risk. Social buzz moves fast, and most spikes fade before price action catches up, or worse, they might be the result of coordinated shilling. That's why the next step is to turn raw noise into structured signals you can actually rank and compare.

A key decision leader at the Federal Reserve has proposed a new path to registration with the central bank Tuesday—one that could, for the first time, unlock coveted privileges for crypto-focused financial institutions.

Decentralized applications (DApps) are changing the way we interact with the Internet. Unlike traditional applications, DApps run on blockchain networks, do not rely on centralized servers, and feature decentralization, openness, and immutability. Currently, DApps are mainly concentrated in games, finance, social media, and other fields, providing users with brand new experiences. Although the development of DApps still faces challenges such as user experience, performance, and scalability, with the continuous advancement of technology, we believe that DApps will become an important part of the future Internet.
