The rise of NFTs (Non-Fungible Tokens) has brought revolutionary changes to digital content creation and trading. Based on blockchain technology, NFTs ensure the uniqueness and immutability of digital assets, solving the problem of digital content being easily copied. NFTs have a very wide range of application scenarios, including digital art, game items, virtual real estate, music works, etc. The rapid development of the NFT market has attracted the participation of many artists, collectors, and investors, and has also provided creators with new monetization channels. Although there are risks of speculation and bubbles in the NFT market, in the long run, NFTs will inject new vitality into the development of the digital economy.

HMRC's visibility into the market has improved dramatically. The agency now receives transaction data directly from major crypto exchanges and will gain automatic access to global exchange data from 2026 under the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD)'s Crypto-Assets Reporting Framework (CARF).

At the frontier, where these structures haven't been established yet, strong individuals can maximally exploit that strength to dominate others. That is freedom to those who want that or otherwise possess heterodox views and wish to exercise them away from propriety's watchful eyes.
