Joachim Nagel, president of Germany's Bundesbank and a member of the ECB's governing council, warned of possible "spillovers" from the private credit market, calling it a "regulatory risk." Nagel shared his concerns with CNBC as the global private credit market surpassed $1 trillion, adding that "we as regulators, we have to take a close look at it.”

However, as the price failed to hold above $110,000 on Thursday, that short-term confidence faded. While the hourly premium has turned negative, the daily reading remained slightly positive, indicating that long-term US buying support hasn't fully disappeared, but it is currently under strain.

A key technical signal to watch is the 200-day exponential moving average (EMAs), which BTC has held for nearly six months. In the previous cycle, it maintained this trend from October 2024 to March 2024 before briefly losing it during consolidation. This time, the trendline has held from April to October 2025, with the price possibly losing the trendline in the coming days.

“Gold is giving us a lesson in statistics,” he said, adding that the asset has faced even bigger drawdowns since 1971, with such corrections counting 21 times.
