Gold's rally appears to have stalled after hitting an all-time high of around $4,380 per ounce on Friday, given it has dropped 2.90% ever since. Still, the precious metal was up by over 62.25% year-to-date.

Bitcoin's rise also comes as gold and U.S. stocks jump on hopes that the Federal Reserve will cut interest rates again this month. The central bank has been under pressure from President Donald Trump to lower the cost of borrowing this year.

Bitcoin's current weakness can also be linked to the US equities market. Macroeconomic analyst Jesse Colombo said that Bitcoin's 92% correlation with the Nasdaq makes it a "leveraged play on tech stocks." This was on display last Friday when the S&P; 500 fell 2.7%, the Dow Jones 1.9%, and the Nasdaq 100 Composite over 4.2%, their sharpest daily drops since April, dragging Bitcoin down alongside them.
