Experts highlight a stark divergence between Ethereum's bearish options activity and bullish institutional inflows.

Prediction markets are hotter than ever, with Polymarket and Kalshi already combining for over $4.63 billion in trading volume across the first 23 days in October — smashing last month's previous record of $4.17 billion, DefiLlama data shows.

The sell-off stemmed from renewed trade tensions between the US and China, after reports of potential 100% tariffs on Chinese imports, which rattled risk sentiment. However, as markets stabilized early this week, US stocks began recovering, though Bitcoin's rebound has lagged.

"Bitcoin briefly tested record highs before retreating as traders took profits," Joe DiPasquale, CEO of crypto asset manager BitBull Capital, told Decrypt. "The broader setup remains bullish, with a prolonged government shutdown likely to continue driving interest in hard assets and supporting demand for Bitcoin as an alternative store of value."

"In fact, the reverse," Nailwal said in a post to X on Monday, adding that he has given his loyalty to Ethereum even though it has potentially cost him billions of dollars in Polygon's valuation not to brand itself as a layer 1.

For traders and builders alike, the real alpha will come from understanding how value migrates between these worlds. The Stripe Tempo news signals that the base layer is now strategic real estate. And in markets, whoever controls the rails eventually controls the margins.
