The spot volume delta metric, an indicator that measures the net difference between buying and selling trade volumes, reveals that net spot buying on exchanges remains negative, despite the recent attempts at recovery.

Grayscale staked 32,000 ETH (about $150 million) a day after it enabled staking for its Ether ETPs, making it the first US crypto fund issuer to offer staking-based passive income via US-listed spot products.

Three times leveraged funds are far rarer, with many observers of the space doubting that issuers would try to introduce more of these products, which can become a bad bet if the underlying asset veers in an unexpected direction. The prospectus itself warns repeatedly that the various funds proposed may not be right for all investors.

Blockchain technology needs clearer rules, too

Analysts remain wary of digital assets' future price path as markets reckon with a re-escalation of the Trump administration's global trade war, inflation and economic worries, and other macroeconomic uncertainties. "It's likely too early to tell if this is the bottom though as wider markets are choppy, particularly gold," James Butterfill, global head of research at crypto asset manager CoinShares told Decrypt.

Those numbers suggest Australian crypto holders are taking broader bets across decentralized finance and alternative ecosystems, spreading risk across newer assets rather than concentrating in Bitcoin.
