Summoners era tier list 2024

This article is now over four years old and may include outdated information. Welcome summoners to our guide on Summoners Era. With numerous powerful heroes to choose from, each with five-star ratings across all elements, building a team can be quite overwhelming. That's why we've compiled this list of our top picks to make it easier for you to create your own team. While opinions may vary, these heroes have proven themselves to be among the best in the game right now. This guide should provide you with some inspiration for creating your ideal team build. One such hero is Zalidus, a dark element assassin who excels at quickly tearing apart enemy back lines with his active skill. His passive ability also gives him a 50% chance to apply bleed to his targets, making it difficult for them to survive if he's not taken down first. However, Zalidus truly shines when he takes damage himself, as this triggers an increase in his attack speed and critical rate. What sets him apart further is his Healing Soul passive skill, which restores HP equal to the damage dealt upon landing a critical hit while below 50% health. This makes him nearly indestructible due to his high self-sustain capabilities. Another top pick is Lass, a nature element ranger hero who uses poison-tipped arrows from her powerful bow. Her active skill deals significant damage to three random back line heroes and poisons them for three turns, with a small chance to silence affected targets as well. This can be a game-changer in team fights if it activates. Lass also gains strength based on the number of abyss, fire, or dark heroes on the enemy team and provides buffs to ally nature, water, or light heroes by increasing their critical rate and damage. Lastly, there's Zygor, an abyss element ranger who unleashes his ancient powers to devastating effect. His active skill hits the entire enemy group with a 15% chance to petrify them. Meanwhile, his passive skills focus on making him stronger, including Dragon Fang, which boosts his attack speed and dodge chance. He's also surprisingly tanky due to his abilities and has a chance to block attacks, reducing damage by half, and can even turn the attacker petrified for three turns if they hit him. Eitri is an unyielding fire element warrior who wields a massive hammer to crush his foes. His active skill unleashes devastating damage on front-line enemies, stunning them for two turns if they possess lower armor than him. Eitri's entire kit revolves around this ability, which also steals enemy armor from his basic attacks, amplifying its potency. Additionally, he has the capacity to remove crowd control effects and increases his attack and critical rate with each use. Xavier, on the other hand, is a skilled light element mage who commands the power of light. His active skill, Light of Souls, deals significant damage to two random enemies and heals two allies in return. Xavier's initial passive boosts his skill damage and speed, while his second passive enables him to steal enemy attack power from his basic attacks. Entia, a light element priest hero, focuses on supporting her team by providing healing through damage. Her active skill applies the Blessing Mark to random enemies, removing debuffs and preventing them for two turns. Entia can also heal herself when attacking marked enemies and has an emergency healing mechanism that heals allies equal to her maximum HP if she drops below half of it.
