Spending a few days on a cruise ship drinking margaritas, relaxing by the pool, and eating seafood sounds like heaven. Pair all of this with an adult-only or clothing optional cruise, its the perfect time for those who want to spend their vacation open and free to be themselves. You might be used to enjoying the freedom of going pantless or shirtless in your home, but have you ever thought about doing it on vacation? Most people havent. However, in todays society, people are opening up to doing things theyve never done before. One of the non-traditional activities that some choose to participate in are clothing optional cruises. Theyre just like regular cruises, except clothing is optional, rather than required. If youre looking to try out something new and nude for vacation, or just curious to see what some options are, here are three clothing optional cruises to go on. Packing is certainly a breeze for clothing-optional or nude cruises, Bare Necessities Tour and Travel is a company focusing on nude travel. They have a few cruise options, with destinations to the Bahamas and the Great Barrier Reef. This cruise line doesnt have very strict rules regarding nudity. There are, however, specific places on the ship, such as dining areas, where nudity is not permitted. Last month, Bare Necessities announced a new 11-day Caribbean cruise on their Norwegian Pearl ship, scheduled to set sail in February 2025. This cruise ship has over 16 dining options, 14 bars and lounges, a casino and a spa for relaxation. Pricing starts at $2000 per person and increases depending on the type of cruise you want. For the couples, youll enjoy this couples-only cruise. Bliss Cruise works with several companies including Royal Caribbean and Celebrity Cruises for adult-only and clothing-optional cruises. From RCI Symphony of the Seas to Celebrity Reflection, there are multiple cruise options to choose from. Cruising to multiple areas like Cozumel and the Caribbean, you can choose whichever locations and cruise options fit your needs as a couple. All upcoming cruises set sail this year and next. This ensures that you have plenty of time for planning. This cruise is a 21+ cruise, and the open deck and pool areas are clothing optional on these ships. Another clothing optional cruise, Temptation Cruises, is an adult-only venture, and one of the less expensive options. Starting at $1,975 per person, their upcoming cruise is the Temptation Caribbean Cruise, departing in February 2025. This cruise is a six-night cruise, setting sail from Miami, Florida and going all around the Caribbean, including the Bahamas and Jamaica. They have seven dining areas and 16 bars on board, a playroom for couples only, workshops and activities and topless-only areas.Step into a world of untouched beauty as you arrive at Mystery Island, Vanuatu. This secluded paradise, accessible only by sea, offers an unspoiled retreat where turquoise waters lap against pristine shores.A true tropical escape, this tiny uninhabited islet is fringed with coral reefs and blessed with serenity. Wander barefoot through white sands, snorkel vibrant reefs, or enjoy a guided beachcomber walk. The nearby Aneityum villagers come to share their crafts and warm island hospitality. Indulge in pure relaxation, explore vibrant coral reefs, or immerse yourself in the islands rich culture. Whether you seek serenity or discovery, this hidden gem invites you to experience the essence of the South Pacific.In what promises to be a unique voyage for Norwegian Cruise Line, the Big Nude Boat is scheduled to set sail from Miami in February 2025. It will offer a distinctive travel experience for those who prefer to cruise sans attire. The 11-day Caribbean cruise, a full charter from Bare Necessities, seeks to blend the liberating experience of a clothing-optional vacation with the amenities and services of a traditional cruise. Departing on February 3, 2025, and returning on Valentines Day, the cruise aboard the nearly 2,400-passengerNorwegian Pearlwill visit a series of picturesque destinations in the Bahamas, Puerto Rico, St. Maarten, Dominica, Martinique, and St. Lucia. (Photo Credit: Mykola Komarovskyy) Bare Necessities is a tour and travel company that specializes in clothing-optional vacations. Founded in 1990, it focuses on arranging cruises aboard chartered ships, with earlier nude cruises in the Caribbean and Europe, such as the Big Nude Boat 2024, which took place on Carnival Cruise LinesCarnival Prideand the 2023 Wonders of the Mediterranean cruise, which was hosted by Star Clippers five-mastedRoyal Clipper. The Big Nude Boat 2025s journey will begin and end with visits to Norwegian Cruise Lines private island, Great Stirrup Cay in the Bahamas, where passengers can snorkel, zipline, and relax in cabanas. Both visits to the private island are exclusive calls, which means passengers may be able to forgo clothing. The cruise aboard the 93,530-gross-tonNorwegian Pearlwill then proceed to San Juan, Puerto Rico; Philipsburg, St. Maarten; Roseau, Dominica; Fort-de-France, Martinique, and Castries, St. Lucia. The sailing will also include two Nude Days at Sea. Some additional shore excursions will also be clothing optional. Although not listed on Norwegian Cruise Lines website, Bare Necessities is providing passengers with guaranteed options, which the travel company says sells out quickly. Special events will also be planned but have not yet been released. OnCarnival Pride, the clothing-optional fun included a pirate night costume party, a deck dance party where the only attire required was LED lights, and passenger talent shows. When the ship is at sea or anchored, nudity is generally allowed. However, when the ship is docked, all passengers must be fully clothed on all parts of the vessel, including private balconies, until an announcement is made that it is acceptable to be nude again. Clothing is also required in all dining areas, not including bathrobes or lingerie, the latter of which is forbidden as general attire, along with fetish wear. Specific rules regarding appropriate conduct in public areas will also be enforced. Inside cabins start at $2,000 per person, with the 3-bedroom Haven Garden Villa on Deck 14 priced at $33,155 per person. A Greek Isles clothing-optional cruise by Bare Necessities is currently underway onRoyal Clipperwith a second launching on May 11. A second nude cruise for 2025 is currently accepting bookings. The October 26 cruise will travel from the Great Barrier Reef to Vanuatu aboard Scenic CruisesScenic Eclipse II. The most luxurious nude cruise experience is making its way to Australias shores aboard the six-star luxury yacht Scenic Eclipse II. Bare Necessities, renowned for its nude cruises, has chartered this exquisite vessel for a breathtaking journey through the Great Barrier Reef and Vanuatu. Departing on October 26, 2025, from Cairns, this two-week roundtrip cruise has already garnered significant interest from Australians. Since the cruise became available for booking in early September, 56 out of 114 cabins have been sold, with six of them claimed by Aussies. Bare Necessities promises an unquestionably luxurious experience, unlike any other nude cruise. Guests who have previously sailed with Bare Necessities praise the unique atmosphere and rules that apply to such voyages. With a light-hearted approach, they emphasise the importance of maintaining decorum and humorously suggest methods to handle any excitement that may arise. Men cant be overly excited. We say that if they start to feel things around moving down there, jump in cold water. Or think about baseball. Bare Necessities has a track record of chartering large ships, including the Carnival Pride and Norwegian Pearl, and now the Scenic Eclipse II. This upcoming cruise from Cairns promises the same level of luxury expected from Scenic, combined with a festive ambience. Guests will enjoy a sailaway party before exploring destinations such as Magnetic Island, Airlie Beach, Capricorn Cays in Queensland, and ports in New Caledonia and Vanuatu. The Scenic Eclipse II boasts a plethora of amenities and expedition resources, from a submarine and Zodiacs to butler service for every guest and a luxurious spa and wellness facility. With bookings filling up fast, its no surprise that the bottom four suite categories are already sold out. The remaining suites, starting from $16,750 for the Grand Deluxe Verandah Suite, offer exceptional value for an unforgettable experience. Suite categories extend to the lavish Owners Penthouse, priced at $50,770. Curious to learn more about the ins and outs of nude cruising? Before your imagination starts running wild with images of regular Carnival Cruise ships filled with skinny-dippers, lets set the record straight about what this is and what its not. And dont worry, well also cover the ins and outs (no pun intended) of a typical Bare Necessities cruise day, and a few crucial etiquette tips to keep in mind.Our story begins back in 1990 when a forward-thinking couple named Nancy and Tom Tiemann thought up the concept of a vacation where people could truly let loose and Bare Necessities Tour and Travel was born. Their mission? To create a safe and respectful environment where folks could unwind, socialize, and be completely themselves, sans clothing. Fast forward 30-plus years, and Bare Necessities is the worlds top provider of clothing-optional cruises, with a global reputation for providing comfortable, fun, and respectful nude vacations.Is there really a nude Carnival Cruise?So now youre probably wondering: is this really a Carnival Cruise? The answer is yes and no. Bare Necessities charters Carnival Cruise Line ships for their adventures, but its not your typical Carnival experience.But wait, what exactly is a charter? A charter, in its simplest terms, is a rental of a ship. When a company like Bare Necessities charters a cruise ship, they essentially lease the entire ship from the cruise line in this case, Carnival for a specific period of time. They then offer that ships cabins for rent to their customers. Its kind of like booking a hotel for a conference, but instead of rooms, youre booking the entire ship.This is where the distinction between a regular Carnival Cruise and a Bare Necessities charter comes in. You see, if youre looking for a typical Carnival Cruise, you wont be able to book this one. The ship is entirely filled with Bare Necessities customers. The only way to get on board is to book through Bare Necessities themselves.What happens on a nude cruise?If youre wondering what a day on a Bare Necessities cruise looks like, imagine all the typical cruise amenities plush cabins, top-notch dining, pools, gyms, spas, you name it with the added freedom of a clothing-optional environment. Oh, and dont forget the themed parties, costume nights (ironic, right?), and body painting sessions, to name just a few of the unique activities being offered.Heres the best part the choice to bare it all (or not) is entirely up to you. While many cruisers do choose to go au naturel, you can wear as much or as little as youre comfortable with. Just remember, youll need to suit up when youre dining or when the ship docks at ports.Now lets talk etiquette because yes, theres a certain way to navigate a nude cruise. Respect is the name of the game here, folks. No means no is the golden rule, so always respect personal boundaries and remember that everyone is there to relax and have a good time, just like you.Even though everyone in the buff, its all about comfort, not getting kinky. Nudity doesnt mean lewdity, and thats an important distinction to remember. And please, no gawking! Its totally cool to be curious, but remember, this isnt a spectator sport, and nobody likes to be ogled.Lastly, always sit on a towel in common areas not only is it a basic courtesy, but its also a hygiene must. Bare Necessities even hands out branded towels to each guest to make sure you remember this rule!So, there you have it the lowdown on the Bare Necessities Nude Cruise. Its an adventure like no other that invites you to embrace body positivity, connect with like-minded people, and above all, have a blast. If youre looking for a vacation thats a little out of the ordinary and are ready to step outside of your comfort zone, this could be just the ticket. Pack your sunscreen, grab your sense of adventure, and get ready for a truly unforgettable journey. Bon Voyage, and remember in the world of Bare Necessities, bare is beautiful!
