The wonderkid was said to be a Manchester United target and was also linked to the likes of Bayern Munich. The youngster is set to undergo a medical in Paris this week ahead of a move from Rennes. The report adds that a 51.5 million deal had been agreed for Doue. 20:22 Scott Trotter Dietmar Hamann believes selling Matthijs de Ligt is an error for Bayern Munich. The German international said, per Sport Witness: He wasnt always able to match his performance at Ajax in Turin or Munich, but for me he was the most stable central defender at Bayern in the last six to eight months. He is someone who opens his mouth and makes his players better. I dont see that with the other central defenders. For me, De Ligt would have been set.20:19Scott TrotterIt is being reported the midfielder is set to rake in the region of 300,000-per-week (UEFA via Getty Images)19:33Scott TrotterIt is being reported the midfielder is set to rake in the region of 300,000-per-week (UEFA via Getty Images)19:33Scott TrotterIt is being reported the midfielder is set to rake in the region of 300,000-per-week (UEFA via Getty Images)19:33Scott TrotterIt is being reported the midfielder is set to rake in the region of 300,000-per-week (UEFA via Getty Images)19:33Scott TrotterIt is being reported the midfielder is set to rake in the region of 300,000-per-week (UEFA via Getty Images)19:33Scott TrotterIt is being reported the midfielder is set to rake in the region of 300,000-per-week (UEFA via Getty Images)19:33Scott TrotterIt is being reported the midfielder is set to rake in the region of 300,000-per-week (UEFA via Getty Images)19:33Scott TrotterIt is being reported the midfielder is set to rake in the region of 300,000-per-week (UEFA via Getty Images)19:33Scott TrotterIt is being reported the midfielder is set to rake in the region of 300,000-per-week (UEFA via Getty Images)19:33Scott TrotterIt is being reported the midfielder is set to rake in the region of 300,000-per-week (UEFA via Getty Images)19:33Scott TrotterIt is being reported the midfielder is set to rake in the region of 300,000-per-week (UEFA via Getty Images)19:33Scott TrotterIt is being reported the midfielder is set to rake in the region of 300,000-per-week (UEFA via Getty Images)19:33Scott TrotterIt is being reported the midfielder is set to rake in the region of 300,000-per-week (UEFA via Getty Images)19:33Scott TrotterIt is being reported the midfielder is set to rake in the region of 300,000-per-week (UEFA via Getty Images)19:33Scott TrotterIt is being reported to rake in the region of 300,000-per-week (UEFA via Getty Images)19:33Scott TrotterIt is being repo benefit from a consistent backline ahead of him. Please try again later. Back to Home Hello and welcome to the Manchester United transfer blog on Saturday, July 26. The transfer market has exploded into life this week after the shock news that Alexander Isak has informed Newcastle that he wishes to seek opportunities elsewhere. Unfortunately for United fans, the Reds are not currently planning to bid for the Swede with his potential 150m price tag being too high for the club. A more likely option is Aston Villa's Ollie Watkins but similarly to Newcastle, his club are likely to dig their heels in to keep their man. Another player who has emerged as an alternative for the frontline is Metz's teenager Idrissa Gueye. Not to be confused with the Everton midfielder, the 18-year-old broke into the second-tier French club's first team last season and scored five goals in 17 appearances. Meanwhile, Benjamin Sesko continues to be linked with teams including United and Newcastle, should Isak leave them. Ultimately, the goalscoring centre back for Man United. Heaven is the only natural left-footed centre half available to Ruben Amorim as Lisandro Martinez continues his rehabilitation from an anterior cruciate ligament injury. At the moment, Villa are insistent their forward is not for sale this summer. However, Newcastle had been giving the same message surrounding Isak but this week has proven that the transfer market can change things in an instant. Man United are being linked with a summer move for Aston Villa striker Ollie Watkins (Image: The FA via Getty Images)07:58Jack FlinthamThe arrival of Gueye would be a trademark move for Ineos considering training sessions and as a fringe player in the squad, similar to Chido Obi, United would need to sign another forward. This is where talk of this man begins... Ollie Watkins (Image: Bradley Collyer/PA Wire)07:37 Jack Flintham According to L'Equipe, United are interested in the signing of Metz striker Idrissa Gueye. It is understood that the 18-year-old has caught the eye of some of the world's biggest clubs thanks to his appearances for the French team last season. Despite his modest goalscoring record of five goals in 17 appearances, it is believed that a fee around the 13m mark could be paid for the up and coming forward. 07:00 Jack Flintham and I shall be keeping you across all the latest United news throughout the morning. We are going to start by talking about an up and coming striker that Amorim's Reds are reportedly looking at. (Image: Qin Zhicheng/VCG via Getty Images.) Live updates on transfer rumours. Look no further...Rasmus Hojlund could be set to leave Man Utd this summer after a disastrous period at Old Trafford. The Dane has failed to live up to his 70 million price tag since his move from Atalanta in 2023, but could return to Serie A. Fabrizio Romano reports that Juventus, Inter and Napoli are all offering him a Man Utd escape route. Ruben Amorim has offered to leave United without compensation following the Europa League loss against Tottenham. I have nothing to show to the fans, so in this moment it is a little bit of faith. Lets see, he told reporters in Bilbao. I am always open, if the board and fans feel I am not the right guy, I will go in the next day without any conversation about compensation, but I will not quit. I am really confident on my job. And as you see I will not change nothing in the way I do things. Viktor Gyokeres' uncle has suggested the player could spend another year at Sporting CP. The Swede's incredible goalscoring record and attainable 70 million asking price has seen him linked with a number of clubs this summer including Arsenal, Chelsea, Liverpool and Manchester United. But, could he ignore the suitors and stay in Portugal? His uncle toldA Bola: Do I like Sporting? Yes, we think so. We hope so, because, look, we love it, it's incredible, the country, the people and Sporting. We love it!Ruben Amorim is under huge pressure at Man Utd following the Europa League final loss to Tottenham, but one man who is full of praise for the Portuguese coach is Sporting hitman Viktor Gyokeres, who has been strongly linked with a move to the Premier League this summer. Did we feel invincible under Amorim? Yes, he toldSIC(viaA Bola). Speaking of Amorims exit, he revealed: It was something that we, as a group of players, didnt want. We were flying and winning all the league games and doing well in the Champions League too. It was a sad moment, but we completely understood his decision and there were no hard feelings. We spoke to him and to all the players. Everything was very clear and there were no hard feelings. Barcelona believe they are too reliant on Lamine Yamal and Raphinha in their wide forward roles so will be looking to strengthen that section of the squad this summer. They are still interested in signing Marcus Rashford from Man Utd as cover for that pair, but their number one target is allegedly Liverpool's Luis Diaz, who could be allowed to leave Anfield if a fee of 70 million or more arrives (Mundo Deportivo). Ruben Amorim is being trusted to rebuild the Man Utd squad to a competitive level. United have had a dismal campaign and could finish as low as 17th in the Premier League after the final game of the season this weekend, though a lot of the damage has been attributed to Erik ten Hag who was in charge for the first portion of the campaign. The Times reports that Amorim will be given 100 million to spend this summer and that the Portugese coach has a positive relationship with Sir Jim Ratcliffe as the pair speak on the phone every week and exchange WhatsApp messages. Man Utd are unlikely to sign Liam Delap if they don't qualify for the Europa League on Wednesday and with that glory will come a major financial boost. With a deal already likely for Matheus Cunha of Wolves, United won't pe able to spend big on other stars if they don't qualify. Delap has a release clause of 35 million following Ipswich's relegation. (ESPN)Man Utd haven't gave up their pursuit of Viktor Gyokeres - Arsenal's number one transfer target. The prolific Swede will leave Sporting CP this summer after a release clause of 35 million following Ipswich's relegation. magnificent period in Portugal that has saw him score a remarkable 96 goals in 101 games. He has a release clause worth100 million, but Sporting will allow him to leave for around70m. It was believed that Arsenal lead the race for his signature, but should Man Utd qualify for the Champions League by winning the Europa League, they will become around 60 million. But be sure to tune back in for more Manchester United news tomorrow, including plenty of reaction to Bryan Mbeumo's transfer from Brentford. Catch you in the morning! 5 days ago21:34 Sam Smith Jason Wilcox has had his say on signing Bryan Mbeumo. Uniteds technical director told the clubs website: Bryans goals and assists record in the Premier League is exceptional, his remarkable consistency has put him amongst the most productive players in England for the last three seasons. Bryans belief in our project and determination to join the club confirmed that he was the perfect fit for Manchester United and the culture that we are developing. We are delighted to have secured another one of our primary targets ahead of the pre-season tour. The experience in the US will be the perfect opportunity for Bryan to work with Ruben and his new team-mates as we prepare for an exciting season at former club Troyes. Mbeumo told United's website: As soon as I knew there was a chance to join Manchester United, I had to take the opportunity to sign for the club of my dreams - the team whose shirt I wore growing up. My mentality is to always be better than I was yesterday. I know that I have the spirit and character to reach another level here learning from Ruben Amorim and playing alongside world-class players. Everybody told me about the environment that is being created here and how exciting the plans are for the future. This is a massive club, with an incredible stadium and amazing fans, we are all really determined to challenge for the biggest trophies. 5 days ago19:00 Sam SmithBryan Mbeumo seems set to be the next player through the door at Old Trafford.A deal with Brentford is moving along at pace after United submitted a new bid last week. He would join Matheus Cunha and Diego Leon in signing for the Red Devils this summer.Let us know in the comments who else you think United should buy before the start of the Premier League season. 5 days ago17:15 Sam SmithMan Utd's hopes of selling Jadon Sancho imminently have taken a hit.Inter Milan are reported to have been interested in the exiled winger, for whom Chelsea failed to make a permanent move following his loan spell last season. Sancho has returned to United but is widely expected to leave. However, according to Fabrizio Romano, Inter have agreed personal terms with Ademola Lookman. That may suggest that the Italian club are no longer interested in Sancho. 5 days ago16:33 Sam SmithMatheus Cunha, Diego Leon and, potentially, Bryan Mbeumo will make their Premier League Man Utd debuts on August 17. Ruben Amorim's side begin their domestic campaign with an unenviable clash with Arsenal at Old Trafford. They then travel to Fulham a week later before hosting Burnley. Man City and Chelsea follow, before Mbeumo may return to Brentford as a United player. 5 days ago15:36 Sam SmithChristopher Vivell is reportedly the key figure behind Man Utd's interest in Benjamin Sesko. Vivell is director of recruitment at Old Trafford and previously worked at the Red Bull Group. Sesko is being discussed internally at Old Trafford but no bid has been made for the forward at this stage. Vivell is reportedly the key figure behind that interest. 5 days ago13:55 Charlie Gordon Marcus Rashford is set to be unveiled as a Barcelona player on Wednesday afternoon, according to Mundo Deportivo. The Manchester United outcast is already in Spain and some reports suggest he has completed his medical ahead of a loan with a 26million option to buy. His signing was originally scheduled to be announced to fans on Tuesday, but it has been delayed due to a double training session. The agreement has been in place for some time but the move was held up by Andre Onana's hamstring injury. Harrison was loaned out to Chester last season before being recalled to provide cover for United's Under-21s and spend time with the first team. Now the 19-year-old will take the next step in his career by banking experience in the fourth tier. 5 days ago11:58 Charlie GordonBarcelona wonderkid Lamine Yamal has reacted to Marcus Rashford's impending move to the Nou Camp. Manchester United and Barca have agreed on a season-long loan deal with a 26million option to buy Rashford posted a picture on social media which showed him playing cards on a private jet seemingly bound for Catalonia. And Yamal commented with a hand-made heart emoji. Alejandro Garnacho and Paul Pogba also reacted by liking the post. 6 days ago 10:55 Charlie Gordon Manchester United are the bookmakers' favourites to land Benjamin Sesko. The Slovenian international had been heavily linked with Arsenal before they turned their attention to Viktor Gyokeres. And he is still expected to leave RB Leipzig this summer. Betfred have United as 2/1 front-runners to sign Sesko, with Newcastle next on the list at 9/2. Here are some of the other contenders... Arsenal -6/1Liverpool - 14/1Chelsea - 20/1Tottenham - 25/1 6 days ago09:54 Charlie GordonManchester United have not submitted a bid for Viktor Gyokeres and they have no intention of doing so, according to Ben Jacobs.Reports in Portugal stated that United were 'very close' to striking an agreement with Sporting which risked scuppering Arsenal's move for Gyokeres. Ruben Amorim worked with the Swede at Sporting and United are expected to try and sign a centre-forward this summer. But rumours of a Gyokeres hijack have now been played down, and the 27-year-old is believed to favour a move to the Emirates in any case. Man Utd have not made a big for Viktor Gyokeres, according to reports (Image: Getty) 6 days ago09:02 Charlie GordonAlejandro Garnacho has looked into what it might be like working under Unai Emery at Aston Villa, according to TBR Football. Garnacho posted a picture of him wearing a Villa shirt on social media last month, and the Birmingham outfit are one of the teams interested in signing him. Chelsea and Tottenham have also been linked as the Argentina international looks for a move that would end his Man Utd woes but keep him in the Premier League. Garnacho has reportedly 'heard good things' after 'doing his homework' on Emery. 6 days ago08:11 Charlie GordonMan Utd legend Rio Ferdinand is curious about what could have led to Marcus Rashford seeking a move away from Old Trafford. Rashford spent the second half of last season on loan at Aston Villa and he is on the verge of completing a temporary switch to Barcelona, who will have the option to buy him at the end of the campaign. "There must have been so much going on behind the scenes that we're just not aware of," Ferdinand said on his YouTube channel. "I'm sure it'll come out in the wash at some point." What are the issues that have led to a young kid that's a graduate of the academy at Manchester United, which is famous for all of the great players that have come through there, that he says he wants to leave?" 6 days ago07:33 Charlie Gordon Manchester United's interest in Nicolas Jackson could open up a swap deal opportunity involving Alejandro Garnacho, who has been training separately from Ruben Amorim's main squad after being told he is free to leave. Talks between the two clubs could therefore centre around Jackson and Garnacho trading places.
